Dear Parent/Carer,

This Friday marks the 75th anniversary of VE day (Victory in Europe) signaling the end of the second world war. Around the country there would have been street parties and town celebrations to commemorate the sacrifice that so many people gave so that we can enjoy our freedom today.

Attached with this letter is an activity pack from Wakefield Council full of activities you can complete in preparation for your own VE celebration picnic. Within the pack contains decorations to colour in, recipes of different foods from the 1940's, list of suggested picnic games and even a Spotify playlist containing songs from the era. I hope you can have fun preparing for your own VE day celebration!

I hope that this Friday, you are able to join in with the celebrations to commemorate 75 years since VE day. If you do plan to celebrate VE day by having your own tea party – please share with us what you have done on our twitter page as it will be great to share what you have done.

Kind regards,

James Parkinson
